

STUDENTS OF THE WEEK FROM AREA HIGH SCHOOLS

Otter Valley Union High School

Hannah Bertrand

Hannah Bertrand is Otter Valley Union High School's latest Student of the Week. Hannah lives in Brandon with her mom, stepdad, brother, and two dogs. She works at ARK Childcare in Whiting and is also a junior member of the Brandon Fire Department.

Hannah participates in the Patricia A. Hannaford Career Center's Science and Medical Professions program, where she has completed her Licensed Nursing Assistant training and went through the LNA Pinning Ceremony this past June. At school in Brandon, she has made the honor roll and received the Excellence in Advanced Behavior Science Award.

Hannah says it's difficult to choose a favorite teacher, as she's had no shortage of those who have encouraged and supported her. Outside of school, she enjoys reading, watching movies, riding horses, and taking naps.

One of the most important lessons Hannah has learned is to face her fears and challenge herself. She has some advice for younger Otter Valley students and they make their way through the school: "Try new things and avoid drama."

She looks forward to graduating from OVUHS and is currently exploring her post-high school options. Congratulations on a bright future, Hannah!

Mount Abraham Union High School

Evan Corrigan

Mt. Abraham is proud to recognize Evan Corrigan as our student of the week. Evan lives in Bristol with his parents and two sisters, Ila and Audrey.

Evan has been a recipient of highest honors for both academics and transferable skills every semester of his high school career. His favorite classes include AP Calculus, Human Biology and Personal Fitness. His favorite teacher is Mr. Shepard, of whom Evan says, "He is one of the coolest people I know." Evan really enjoys learning about how the human body works which has motivated him to pursue an internship at Bristol Physical Therapy and study exercise science in college.

Evan is an active member of the Mt. Abraham community. He is the captain of the Varsity Baseball Team, a member of the Eagle Leadership Society, and represented Mt. Abe at the Vermont Principals' Association/Vermont State Athletic Directors Student Athlete Leadership conference during his junior year. He has also received athletic honors for soccer and baseball. Evan works at ELP (Expanded Learning Opportunity), is a US Soccer referee, and works as a coach at Summit Soccer School. In his free time, Evan likes to lift weights and spend time with his friends.

"While at Mount Abe, the most important lessons I learned were through baseball because in baseball, you fail more than you succeed," Evan shared. "This has taught me how to work hard and embrace challenges. I've learned that the things you really want in life, you are going to have to work hard for. Take advantage of the opportunities that are offered at Mount Abe.

"The courses you take and grades you get in your underclassman years matter. High school goes by fast, so the sooner you can decide what you want to do after high school, the better."

After graduation, Evan plans to attend college and play baseball. He eventually plans to pursue a Physical Therapy degree and coach baseball as a graduate assistant. We wish Evan all the best in his future endeavors.
